CONVERSATION CLASS

I'M A MOVIE BUFF

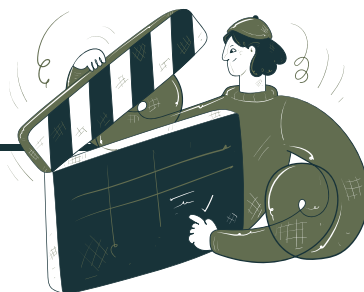

My favorite hobby is watching tv shows and movies. I enjoy spending my free time watching the new releases on Netflix or Amazon Prime. I usually invite my friends to come over and binge-watch them with me. My favorite TV show is "Friends", because it is about a group of best friends living their best lives in New York. My favorite character is Phoebe because she's really confident and funny. Ross, in my opinion, is really annoying - he complains about everything!

Sitcoms are my favorite genre of TV shows, but for movies I prefer to watch thriller ones. I really enjoy trying to understand the mysteries in the plot. And usually the plot twists are amazing. My favorite movie is "Gone Girl", because we think something about the main character and it turns out to be something completely different.

Besides watching, I also enjoy reading, but I usually don't spend a lot of time doing it. Playing the piano and playing sports with my friends are activities I frequently do as well. In the end I just want to have fun.

1 LET'S DISCUSS IT

1. Do you have any hobbies? What do you like doing?
2. Do you like thriller movies?
3. What was the last movie you watched? What about TV shows?
4. Do you like reading books? Why (not)?
5. Do you remember the last book you read? What was it about?
6. Do you know how to play any instruments?
7. What do you usually do in your free time?
8. When was the last time you traveled?

2 DEBATE

1. Movies are better than books. Do you agree?
2. Hobbies are a waste of time.
3. Pop music is overrated.

Keep the effort to speak only in English during the classes.
Don't worry about making mistakes, we're all here to learn (:

LET'S TALK ABOUT KAREN - 2008

Even if you try to forget that movie, you won't. It's an instant classic. "Let's talk about Karen" tells the story of a couple and their struggle with the idea of pregnancy - where we see the husband's excitement and the wife's unwillingness, even though she considers getting pregnant on his behalf. During her pregnancy, she hated all the changes in her body and regretted doing it. After childbirth, she couldn't stop thinking of how much she despised it and how unfair this decision was for her. I don't remember watching such a thrilling movie before. Oh, and I almost forgot to tell you, if you or anyone you know are considering having children, you probably wanna try watching this movie first (or not).

WE USED TO GET UP LATE

My life changed a lot during these years. When I was a kid, I used to walk 6 to 7 blocks to take the bus to school. I used to live far from school, because we didn't have money to buy or rent a house downtown. But I didn't care, I didn't use to be a good student anyway, so it was okay when I missed the bus or arrived late at school. Every other month I used to miss the bus on purpose just to skip class. Well, at least nowadays I have a different perception about studies. My house is only two blocks away from college and even though it's near my house, I always get in time to drink coffee with my classmates before class. Also, in the past I didn't use to go to the bakery to buy snacks for my family, but now it's a habit I don't want to lose.

CONVERSATION CLASS

DO YOU CONSIDER TRAVELING ABROAD?

Traveling abroad might be an opportunity for you to develop your career and academic life. The experience and skills you gain from it can give you lifelong personal benefits as well as a leg up in your profession.

Besides, you are able to leave your comfort zone, since you're leaving your home country and getting to know other people by immersing yourself in their own culture. The point of it is that you learn the most in unknown as much as uncomfortable situations. Also, as you overcome the obstacles of figuring out how to ask for and buy simple things in a grocery store and how to use public transportation, you develop confidence to become familiar with foreign situations (and countries).

1 LET'S DISCUSS IT

1. Which country would you like to visit?
2. What do you prioritize when choosing the itinerary of a trip?
3. Do you consider living abroad? Where would you live?
4. Considering different cultures around the world, is there any country you wouldn't visit?
5. What do you think about spending your money on international trips? Do you consider it a waste of money?

2 DEBATE

When visiting a foreign country, you must know about their local habits and language to respect their culture. Do you agree?

Keep the effort to speak only in English during the classes.

Okay, bad news. I have to move back to Brazil. I'm really sad about it, because I was so used to living here. Living in LA was such a great opportunity for me to improve my English during this exchange program. Waking up every day in this amazing city is something I'll miss a lot. I'm used to the beautiful view, to visiting "Santa Monica Pier" in the evening and also used to hanging out with the friends I made there. We used to go to the beach there and frequently I got a sunburn because I always forgot to wear sunscreen. Damn it, I always have my head in the clouds.

Well, the good part is that I can go back to my family and to the places I used to visit with them in Brazil, like "Christ the Redeemer" in Rio and my aunt's huge swimming pool. I miss that a lot. And about the food I used to eat in Brazil? It used to be so delicious. Even though I'm already used to eating American food, I'm excited about eating the Brazilian one.

18 THE SOONER, THE BETTER

Living in Canada

Hi! I'm Rafael. I grew up in Brazil and lived there for many years. When I was 25 I moved to Toronto to study Arts. Even though my house is smaller here in Canada, it's cozy. The apartment has an open-plan kitchen with the living room, a bathroom and a tiny bedroom (unfortunately). My house in Brazil was bigger and the rent was a bit cheaper. When I lived in Brazil, I had two bedrooms, an office, a huge living room, two bathrooms, a kitchen and a nice yard. I used to love drinking chimarrão in the evening, but nowadays I don't do that anymore, since the stores don't sell erva mate to prepare it. My friends always say Brazil is more interesting to live than Canada because of the weather, but winter here is much more beautiful to see, especially because of the snow. My advice, the sooner you can move abroad, the better.

I MADE THE MOST OF IT

The pandemic is over

I remember those years as if it were yesterday, the scariest moments of my life. I used to work at a store, selling clothes and all of a sudden we had to close it and work from home. A really dangerous virus was by far the worst nightmare we faced during that time. After some time they finally offered us a vaccine and soon we were all together again. My sales online were the best in my team. I was the most successful salesman in my department and that made me proud of myself. The news said it was the most dangerous and the longest pandemic we had so far. On the other hand, we developed our abilities to work with technologies and to meet people over the internet. Nowadays I have my own online business, I opened it 6 months ago and it's a success. My dream is selling abroad and I will achieve it.

SHOULD WE HIRE YOU?

Probably during your life you saw a job opportunity on LinkedIn, newspapers or even someone talking about it. The idea of job interviews can make you feel nervous and even compromise your performance on it.

More than your Curriculum, companies can have impressions through interviews and also by using psychological instruments. Some aspects are important to express when companies are meeting you, such as your expectations, how you work under pressure, your goals for the future and so forth. How can you be prepared for interviews?
